Legislative Update: EO Bird will be presenting the pending rules of the Idaho State Contractors Board IDAPA 24.21.01 to the House Business Committee and the Senate Commerce Committee during the 2025 legislative session. The Board and their stakeholders have worked together to create legislature that highlights three major points: The required registration of Assumed Business Names (ABN) if used, the ability of the Board to assign education as a course of disciplinary action for first-time offenders, and the ability to restrict a new contractor registration after certain cases of formal discipline.

Public Comment: Joe Prin with HomeFix Radio Show expressed concern with regards to General Contractors advertising their business as “licensed”. Mr. Prin specifically noted that within DOPL’s licensing system, OASIS, the term “license” is being used interchangeably with “registration” and that this language is creating confusion for the contractor industry highlighting that claiming licensure when unlicensed is fraud, Prin expressed the need for education on this topic and rewording the OASIS licensing system.
